
Memories

You Needed Me

I cried a tear,
You wiped it dry.
I was confused,
You cleared my mind.
I sold my soul,
You bought it back for me,
And held me up,
And gave me dignity,
Somehow you needed me.

You gave me strength
To stand alone again
To face the world
Out on my own again
You put me high
upon a pedestal
So high that I could almost see eternity
You needed me.
You needed me.

And I can't believe it's you
I can't believe, it's true
I needed you ~~and~~
And you were there
And I'll never leave
Why should I leave
I'd be a fool
'Cause I finally found
Someone who really cares.

You held my hand
When it was cold
When I was lost
You took me home
You gave me hope
When I was at the end
And turned my lies
Back into truth again
You even called me friend.

You gave me strength
To Stand alone again
To face the world
Out on my own again
You put me high
upon a pedestal
So high that I could almost see enity
You needed me.
You need me.

You Needed Me

Dear Shari,

This has really been a wierd year. I have learned so much, about myself, about alot of things. I never knew that life could be so complex.

You have added alot to my life this school year. I'll never forget it. We have been through alot together, good and bad times. The long talks late at night, Our crazy moods, Our teasing each other, I'll always remember these times.

Thank you for the graduation gift, Shari. It's more beautiful by far, than anything I have. It means alot to me. It represents strength, I'll always remember your strength, both physical and your strength of character. Your strength has brought me alot of comfort this year. I have run to you for answers to some of my problems. I have always been assurred when I'm alone in the room at night, and scared to death, that if something did happen, somehow, you would be there to help me.

It also represents light. It will protect me from being afraid in the dark. I don't have to be afraid, because the light is steady.

It is a symbol of our friendship. Shari, whenever that light is burning, It will be a reminder that I'm not alone. While that lights is burning, you will be close to me even though we may be half the world apart.

Finally, it stands for your love for me. I don't know how you did it, but you have still managed to love me. In that one aspect, you represent Jesus to me.

Shari, I don't expect you to believe me as I say this, but I love you. When I told you before that I loved you, I didn't know all that loving someone involved. I do now. I'm going to miss you Shari.

Love Always,
Rhonda

P.S. John 16:33 "These things I have spoken unto you that in me ye might have peace. In the world ye shall have tribulation, but be of good cheer, for I have overcome the world.

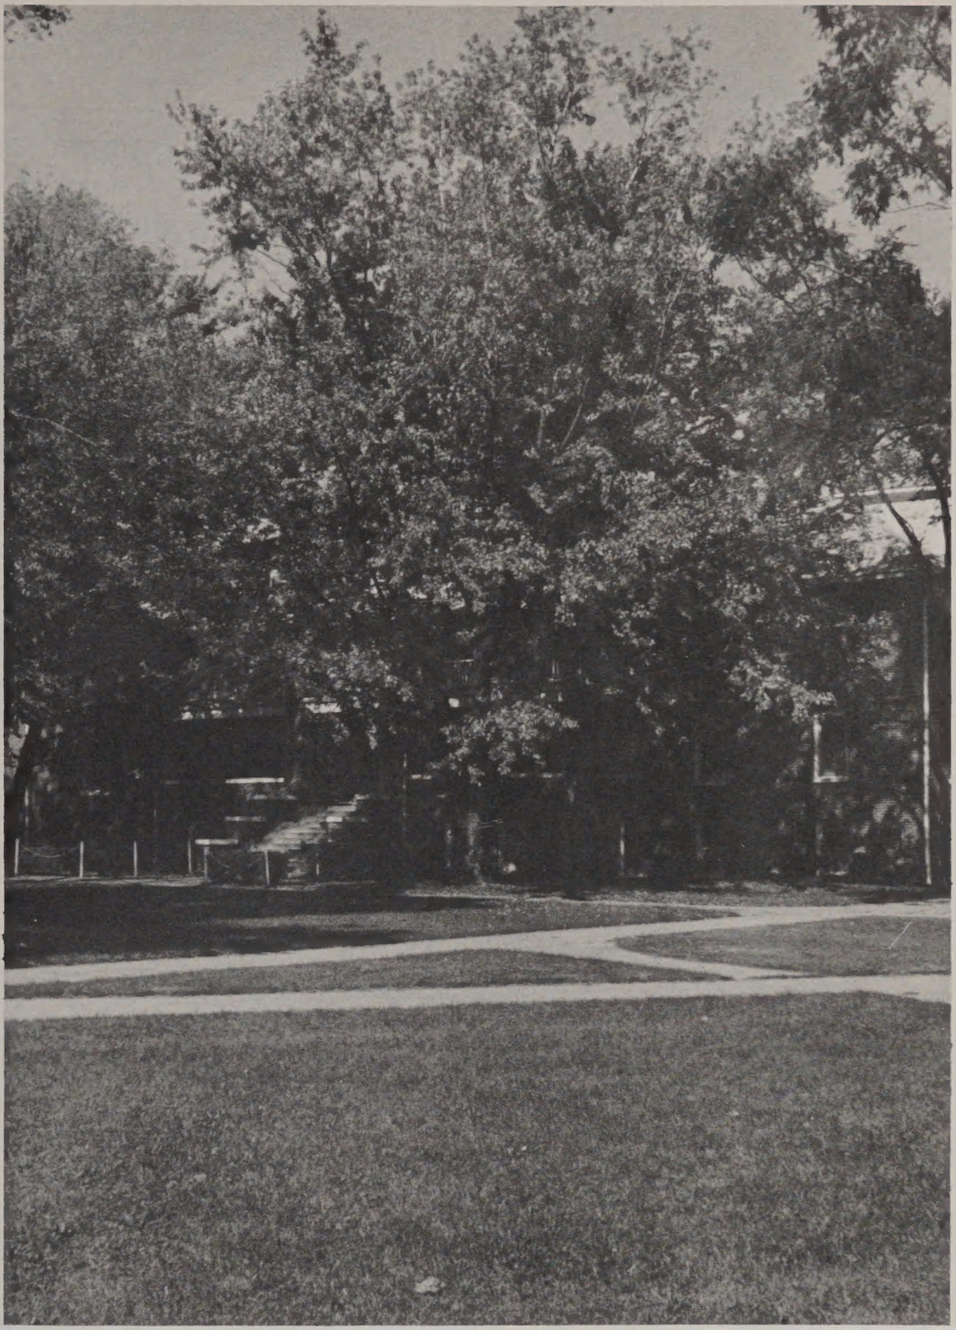
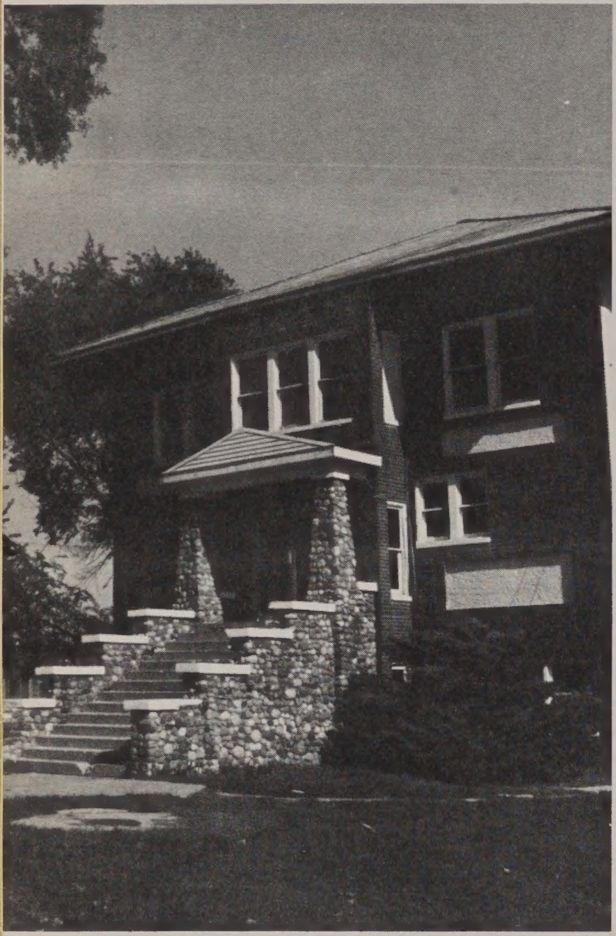
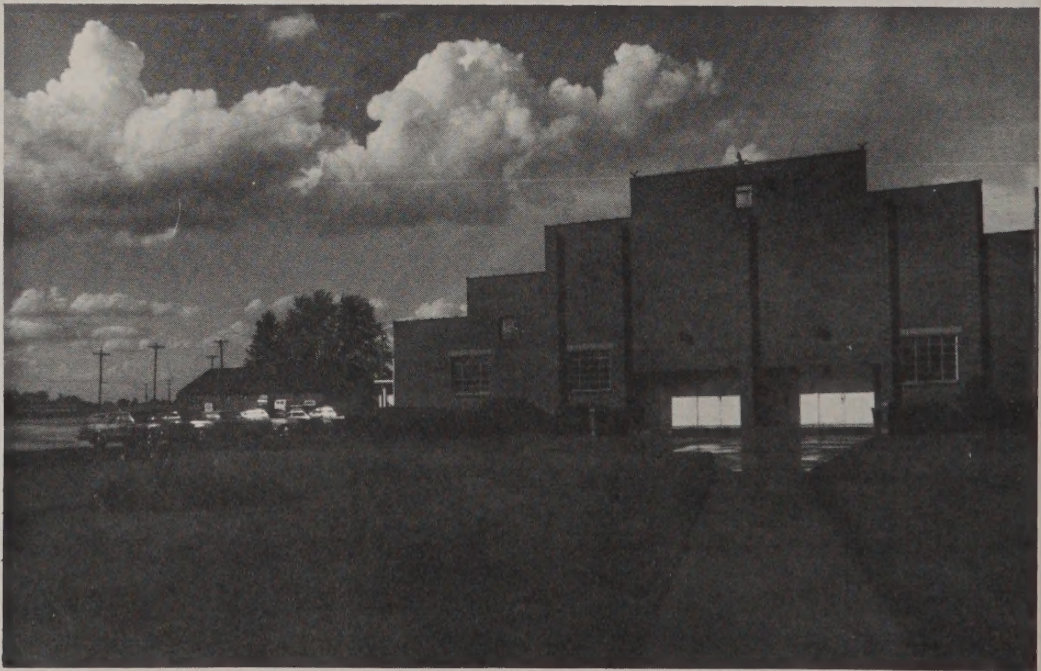
INDIANA ACADEMY
A SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTIST
SECONDARY SCHOOL



As we reflect on the past school year, we will see memories of many various hues. At the culmination of this year these events will become part of the spectrum of our main purpose — the spreading of God's Light to every dark corner of the world. God has entrusted the privilege of illuminating every mind to us. To insure our success in this most important of all endeavors, we must continually keep looking to Christ. As long as we walk in God's Light, the shadows of sin will not encroach upon us. As each of us diffuses into the stream of the world, let us each remain a beam of spiritual brightness.

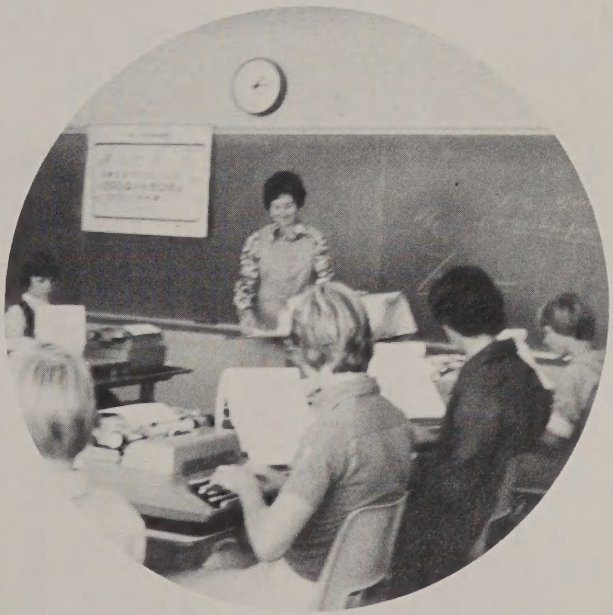




1979

ILLUMINATING THE MIND

Classes and teachers seem to go hand in hand, and our teachers shed the enlightening beams of knowledge on us. The atmosphere in class and the concern the teachers give us help us to enjoy learning and preparing for life.



This year has come and gone so quickly. Perplexities, that at times baffled us, have now faded into the past and MEMORIES of good times and new friends will be ours forever.

As a light brightens our path that we might see in the darkness, so God reveals to each of us direction for our lives. Every faculty and staff member at Indiana Academy desires that you continue to place your trust in our Master Teacher, Jesus Christ, as you leave school this year.

The knowledge that you have received thus far in your educational pursuits will grow to the degree that it serves as light to your fellow men as they walk the pathway of life.

May God bless each of you during the coming summer and keep you safe until He returns.

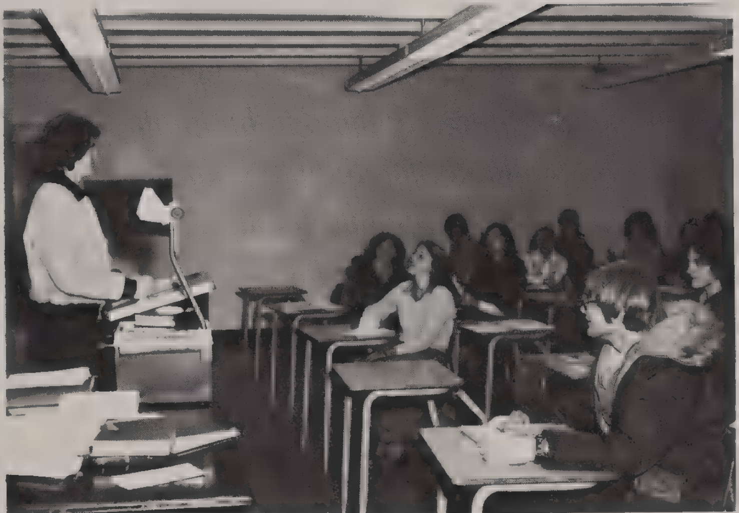
Bible

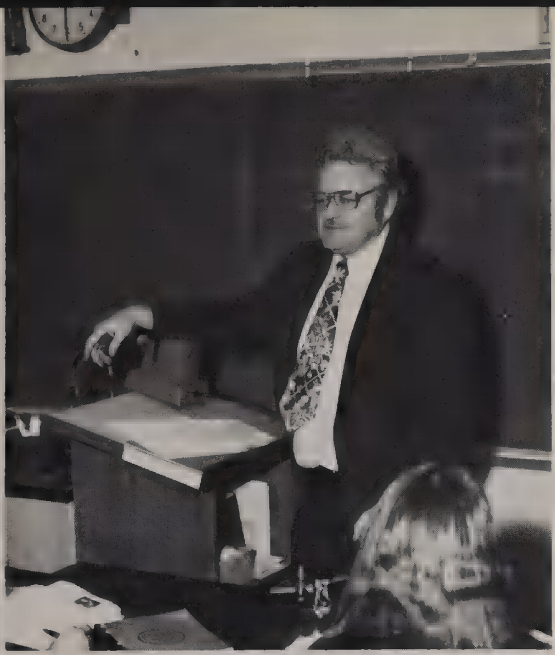
Understanding and knowing the Bible is the most important facet of academy life, and Elder Williams makes this the top priority in his classes. Giving a worship talk, Jim shares in a class assignment. By experience, Tom knows that term papers come along also.



History

Learning the past becomes interesting with Mr. Marsh having different class activities such as films, field trips, and group discussions. The American History Class spent a day at Conners Prairie, a pioneer settlement of early Indianapolis. Dan Hodge and Susie Crabtree point to some countries they might like to visit after taking Mr. Bodtker's World History Class.

HEIGHT 750 A.D.



Science

Science is alive with Mr. Shull giving chemistry class atom replicas to put together and assigning biology special projects. Katerina and Lois are visualizing atoms while Trudy and Craig are boiling a magic solution. Kevin and Brent work on the biology plant while Tim sees things at their smallest.

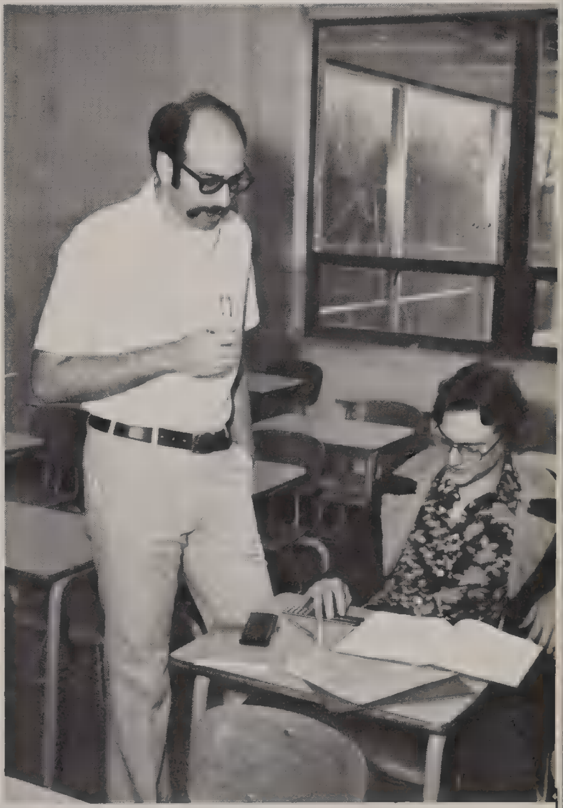
English

Judi
Mr. Bodtkers
English Class!
What a Class-

English is truly our language at Indiana Academy. Sally is in the library looking for source material for her term paper, and Denise and Rick put up circles representing their outside reading. Studiously, Endlish IV class reads an assignment given by Mr. Bodtker. A somewhat confused Mark receives Mrs. Jaramio's help with a sentence diagram.

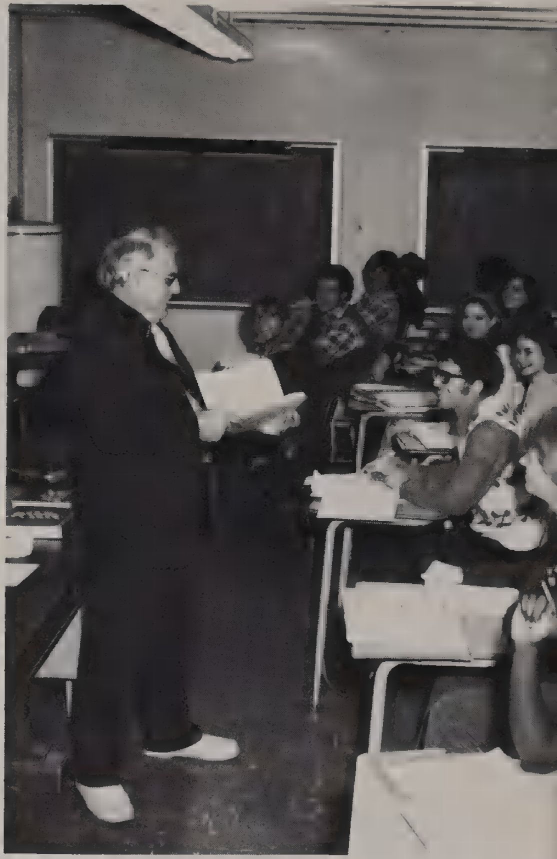
Math

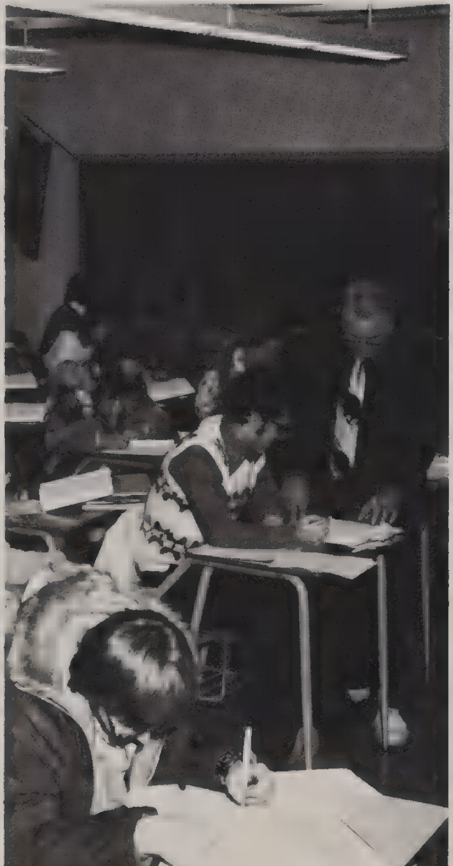
Mr. Evans and math go together as one, as algebra and physics students will inform you. The use of a calculator helps Larry with his precalculus assignment. Listening, Bob learns how to do a physics problem. Michele will be contributing to the mountain of math papers for Melodie to grade.



Government And German

Learning Government principles and the German language are made easier by Mr. Bodtker's experience and interest in the student. Shirlean and Tracie will need to interpret that bulletin board for most people. The government class listens as Mr. Bodtker humorously explains the lesson.





Industrial Arts

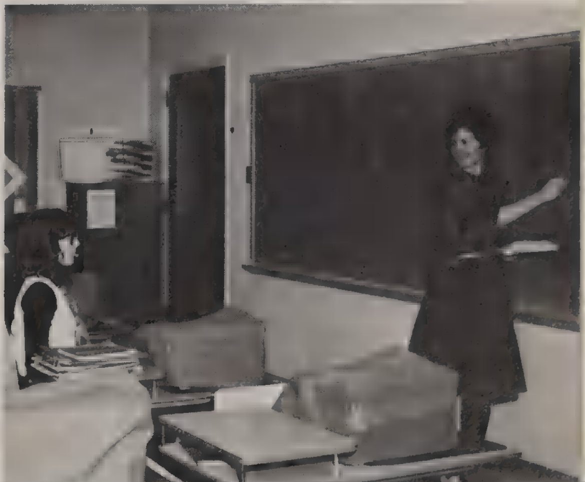
Under Mr. Cochran's guidance, rebuilt motors, drafting plans, and inlaid table tops embody the principles Industrial Ed. students learn in the classroom. Skills in these classes will be useful the rest of the students' lives.

Home Ec & Art

Miss Pusey teaches students some of the fine arts of life. Darryl and Anthony think it takes two to run the sewing machine, and Tina Wise needs some help on a seam. Even cooking becomes fun when you get to sample. Ceramics and painting students create lasting remembrances of art class.

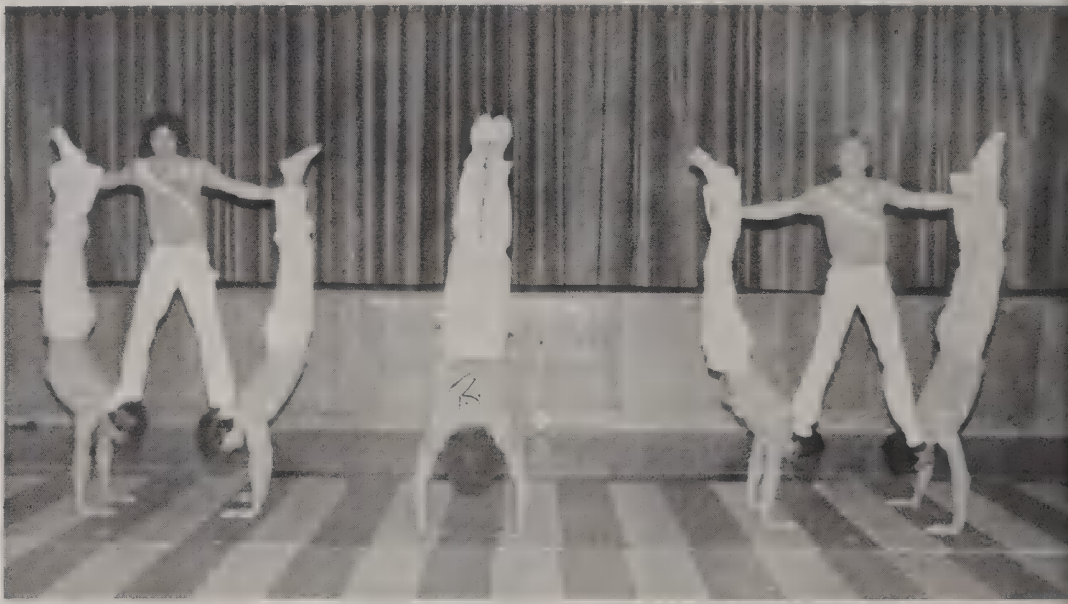
Business Education

Business Education classes prepare the student for his business life. General Business class lines up for a question-answer spelldown with Mrs. Missal. Bob, Joanne, and Mary look busy with accounting, dictaphone, and adding machine while Typing I and shorthand students seem absorbed in what Mrs. Bohman is saying.



Astrogyms

Balance and coordination are two key factors to participation on the tumbling team. Using a western theme, the team visited several schools in the state to present its program of athletic stunts. Using both girls' and boys' routines added variety to the team's performances. The entire team posed in a grand finale of picture taking.



P.E. Class

Volleyball, basketball, tumbling and exercises are only a few of the many activities taught in physical education. Mr. Bill Hicks stands on guard while some of the girls try out their gymnastic abilities and go for a spike in volleyball. The boys' favorite class activity seems to be practicing shots and lay-ups in basketball.

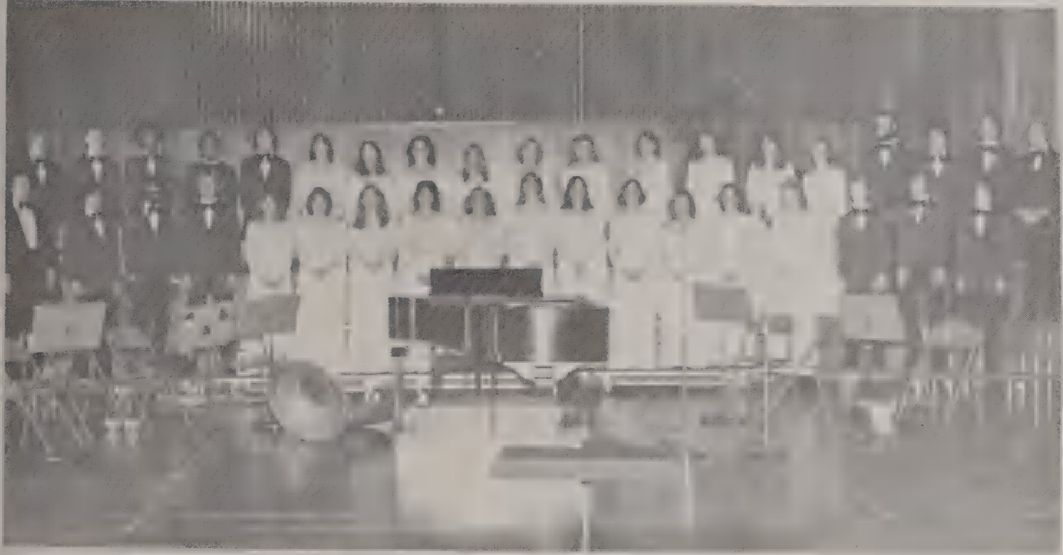
BACH

Music

The Music Department is one of the main attractions at I.A. There is always an abundance of special music for meetings, banquets, and Sabbath School. Mr. Miller works with David to improve his voice, and Mr. Anderson shows Melvin the correct note. Choralanas is the largest choir on campus. It provides musical numbers for church and different school functions.

Keynotes

Learning words and notes requires hard work, but the rewards of performing them as songs makes being a Keynotes member a privilege. Singing at the Circle, for distant churches, and in local concerts creates a tight schedule for the Keynotes. Fun parts of a tour include singing around the piano after lunch or just relaxing in a quiet church.



Agricultural Education

The farm provides both a laboratory for agriculture class and an industry for work opportunities. Testing soil is one lesson Mr. Trubey teaches to Tim, Craig and Allen. David, Carl, Leon and Fred work on the farm driving tractor, fixing machinery and loading corn.

The Library

The Library contains countless bits of information available to each student. Kathy checks out a book while, uninterrupted, Pam and Jim continue their studying and magazine reading. To help Sonya find a book, Mrs. Zacharias explains the card catalog.

Parent-Teacher Day

What's it like to go to school at Indiana Academy? Each parent finds out, visiting classes and eating lunch with his student on this special day. Keynotes give a short program, and there is time given for a question and answer session with the administration.

Senior-Faculty Party

It truly is a privilege to be a senior, and having the faculty host the seniors for an evening of fun makes it even better. The decorations of black and gold and the sandwiches shaped into a "79" made the party original to the class.

In spite of being stranded on a ski lift and afraid of dying of starvation, Mrs. Trubey and Mr. Cochran predicted each senior's life in ten years. The girls' side received a boost in "Name That Tune" as Shari Blackburn gave Bonnie some help on the answer.

Cafeteria

Three times a day our beautiful cafeteria becomes very popular for hungry IA students. It also provides a pleasant atmosphere for banquets, parties, and socials. Here Mr. Boyd Hill, Miss Debbie Strum, and their student assistants provide us delicious food.

SUNSHINE OF FRIENDS

A school wouldn't be a school without classmates. And a school year wouldn't be the same if you didn't meet new people and make new friends. Friends brighten your day and make school fun. They're the sunshine of the campus.

ENLIGHTENING THE SOUL

The real purpose of Indiana Academy is reflecting Christ, the Light of the World. The atmosphere provided by Vespers, Sabbath Schools, Hallowed Moments, and Weeks of Prayer sheds on each student the warmth of that Light.

Vespers

Friday evening, the student body makes its way over to the church for a very quiet, relaxing vesper service. The program might include a guest speaker or a class presentation or a film with each service having one purpose — bringing us closer to the Light of the World.

Sabbath School

The worship service produced by students is our Sabbath School. Student leaders employ stories, films, singing, mission spotlights, and special music to provide a meaningful service that will bring us closer to Heaven each Sabbath morning. In conclusion, we break into classes for lesson study.

Outreach

What can be done on Sabbath afternoon for those that want to share their light and love with others? Our Outreach program provides transportation for singing bands; visits to orphanages, old folks' homes, and retarded children's homes; handing out literature and even going to hospitals to encourage the sick. There is no better way to share what God has given us than to become involved in some of these projects.

Seminar

Sabbaths can also be enjoyed by visiting churches in different parts of the state on seminars. This is an opportunity to share your experience with Christ through special music or a sermonette or a prayer. It may mean getting up a little earlier, but it's worth it. A welcome aspect is the pot luck that the church members provide.

Ide I'm gonna miss you a lot next year. Your always there w/ an understanding shoulder for me to cry on & just to listen when thats what I need. We've been through a lot together + had a lot of good times. Remember me lots cause I'll remember you. Stay sweet + keep your shoulder free cause somebody else will probably need it, & yours is the best one around. Have a good summer. See ya around.

MV And Hallowed Moments

G.B.Y.

The afternoon hours of the Sabbath provide time to relax, read, and attend the M.V. programs. Films, special music, panel discussions, Bible charades, and tapes add variety and fun to Bible learning. The Sabbath is ended with Hallowed Moments, a short inspirational reading followed by the traditional recessional, "Father, Lead Me Day by Day."

AYBL

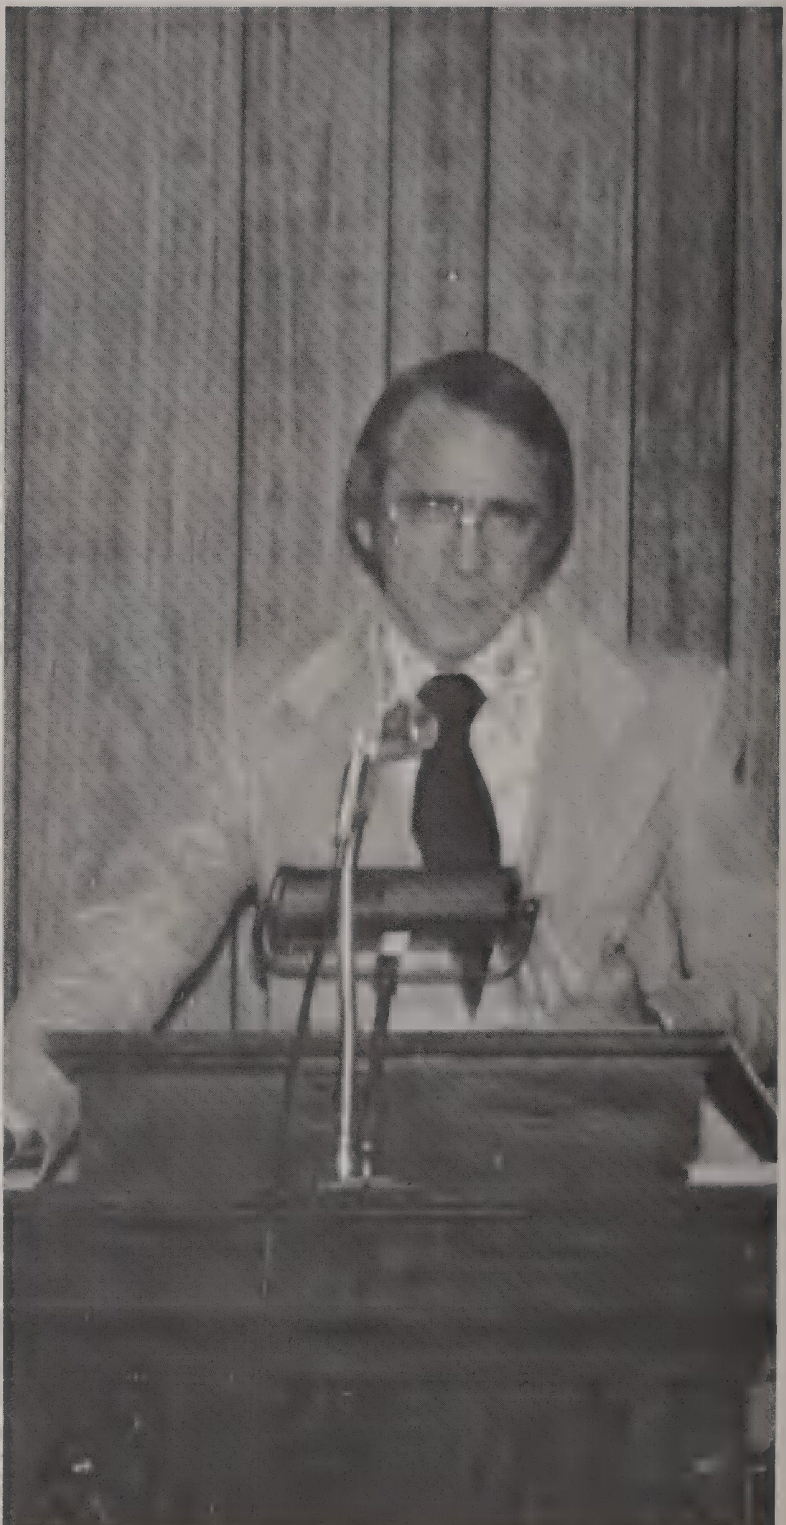
Every student of Indiana Academy is a member of the Adventist Youth for Better Living Club. The temperance team has held Five-Day Plans and Smoking Sam demonstrations and has visited local public schools, teaching the principles of better living. During Temperance Week, Tom portrays a healthy guy to poor weakling Dusty.

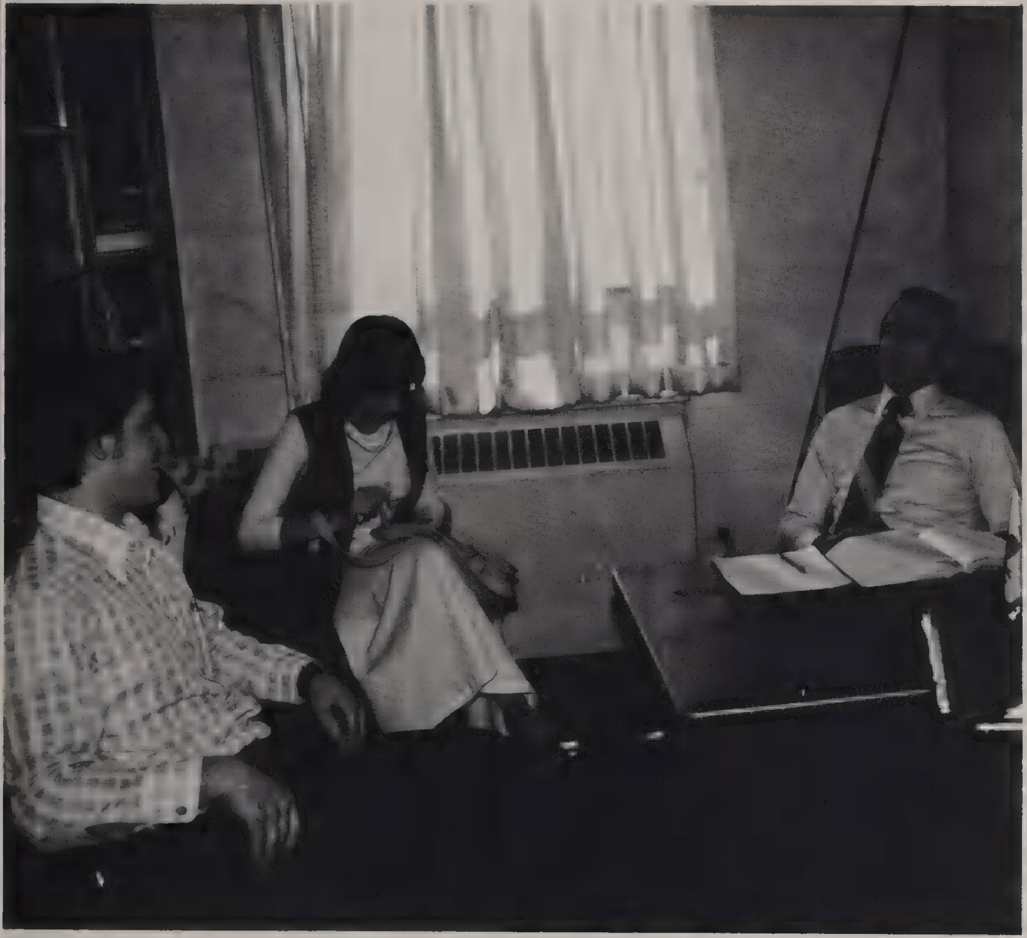
Outdoor Camp

Outdoor camp provided an active weekend of spiritual emphasis and recreation. The guest speakers, the Doctors Murdoch, shared their intimate years in Seventh-day Adventist education. Sabbath evening activities included a moonlight progressive hike and a campfire. Sunday was spent canoeing, swimming, skiing, and horseback riding.

Leadership Camp

I.A. student leaders spent a weekend at Leadership Camp held at AuSable Youth Camp in Michigan. The Michigan woods were ablaze with autumn colors, and the inspiring program designed to promote student leadership on campus made the weekend very valuable. Elder Floyd Bresse of Union College and Elder Wayne Shepperd of the Lake Union Conference were guest speakers.





Week Of Prayer

This week of spiritual emphasis brought a lighter load of studies and a rich blessing through Elder Bill Richardson from Andrews University. The blessing of the sermons and special music was climaxed with a special communion service ending the devotional week. The week before I.A. students conducted a week of prayer at the elementary school. Students spoke on the theme "Designed for Heaven."

Christmas Program

A Festival of Lessons and Carols combined the Keynotes, Choralanas, and a brass ensemble for the Christmas musical program. Coordinator and director was Harlan Miller. The choirs were accompanied by Malcolm and Margaret Anderson with Hans Missal reading the narrations.

Dear Shari,

I'm sure you'll never forget the time 4 crazy girls woke you up one Sabbath morning! It was fun, wasn't it! (HA! HA!) You're a very dear girl (except when you try to tickle me!) and I'm glad we got to be friends. Thank-you for all the →

Welcome

Two of the first activities of the 1978-79 school year were Handshake and Variety Hour. Handshake was held the night of registration and gave everyone a chance to get acquainted. For Variety Hour students turned their room upside down in a bag and headed for the gym where their purple hair combs, I.A. application forms, and refrigerators accumulated points for their class. Juicy watermelon topped the evening.

all

Fall Picnic

With each class cheering and yelling, the student body headed for White River Lodge for the annual Student Association Fall Picnic. The determination to come out ahead was seen during the day in such events as the wheelbarrel race, the bottle sucking race, running races, three legged race and even a football throw. The most popular event, though, was dinner prepared under the direction of Mr. Hill and Miss Strum. The afternoon went fast with the Seniors ending up with the most points. After supper and worship we found ourselves on campus, tired and sore, but happy.

"What's on your mind, Chicken Chino?!!"

"Probably - now that you mentioned it!" (or Bee-Boo Bop!)

Harvestfest

A hayride, a car race, a balloon and dart game, and a picture booth highlighted the annual S.A. Harvestfest. The Juniors' Laurel and Hardy movie and the Good News Quartet were special features of the evening. The evening portrayed fun and games for everyone who did not spend much of it incarcerated in the Spartan jail. Several of the booths also sold different kinds of food, such as nutrious cookies, caramel apples, pizza, candy bags, and freshly-made applesauce. This was a time when the community could join in our fun and help in the raising of funds for the different classes and campus clubs.

S.A. Christmas Banquet

"Christmas Around the World" was the theme on this festive evening. The S.A. created the magic of Christmas abroad by decorating each quadrant of the cafeteria in international settings. Melody and Guy had a nice time in American as Mr. Bohman snapped a shot of Santa Shull in Great Britain. Latin America and Germany were the other two countries portrayed. Anticipating foreign flavors, the Missals looked over the banquet food Becky and Cynthia helped to prepare. Presenting their Christmas wishes, Sharna and Miss Pusey perched on Santa's lap during the program emceed by Malcolm Askew.

Publications Kick-off

The ECHO and MEMORIES combined efforts for their subscription campaign. The skits in this year's kick-off portrayed the uses of the ECHO. Bonnie and David quarreled at breakfast because the ECHO was too interesting to put away. With Dusty arrested for non-participation, Carl and Matt wrote furiously. The Seniors' reward for victory was a trip to Farrell's where Melodie enjoyed her Gibson Girl. Students selling 23 or more subs were thrilled by the Screamin' Demon at Kings Island.

Memories

The yearbook staff started early compiling the events of this year for memories in the future. The staff included the Co-Editors Greg Greer and Trudy Chapman, Copy Editor Annette Trubey, Typist Dixie Williams and Advertisement Editor Lolly Lenz.

Girls' Dorm

Holly Hall serves as a home away from home for the girls. With Mrs. Chapman as mother dean and Mrs. Missal and Miss Verstegh as her assistants, dorm worship, study hall, and each day's activities usually run smoothly. The bigger-than-home-sized laundry and recreation rooms are being used by Lynette, Cheryl, April and Kim. Finding a few spare minutes, Donna, Shirlean, and Cynthia relax in the homey lobby.

Open House

"Ship ahoy! All on board!" was the call as the girls of Holly Hall went to pick up their dates for a cruise on the good ship Holly Hull. After a tour of all the bunk rooms all hands gathered on the dining deck for a sampling of dishes from exotic ports. Shipmates served the dinner and the crew played dinner music. The entertainment featured the girls of Holly Hull, some singing "Row, Row, Row Your Boat" and "On the Good Ship Lollypop," and others performing skits, "Hole in the Bucket" and "Who's on First." Mr. Askew gave the reading "Noah." One person even fell overboard. The lovely cruise ended, docking back at the dorms.

Guys' Dorms

The two mini dorms house the guys under the supervision of Mr. Marsh and Mr. Cochran and their assistant Malcolm Askew. These dorms are the home base for Spartan activities such as basketball game outings, beard growing contests and athletic programs. Each dorm room gives a place for study, sleep and friendship.

BE MINE

Spartan Reception

The girls walked into the guys' hearts through the heart-shaped entry to the Valentine's Banquet. The cafeteria was decorated with big red hearts, and a special menu featuring la sagna and chocolate ice cream puffs was served. The evening's entertainment centered around love with Melvin Tolson and Darryck Farmer as emcees. Special soloist, Ben Anderson from Collegedale Academy, added to the love songs and poems given by I.A. students and faculty members.

Alumni Weekend

What better way to relive old memories of life at Indiana Academy than to come back for Alumni Weekend. Friday evening vespers was given by Mr. Robert Masengill, the Alumni President. The Keynotes gave the afternoon program followed by a piano-organ duet vespers. Then came the Saturday night talent show featuring the Light Bearers Quartet of '58, the '78 barbershop quartet, and "A Letter from Junior." Future Alumni cheered on the Alumni and I.A. All Stars. Even though it had been a long time since some had been on those courts, the Alumni still won.

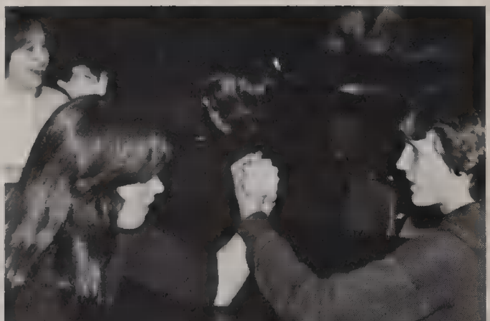
Sports

Several of the sports most enjoyed by the students at I.A. are basketball, football, volleyball and ping pong. But if you were to ask boys or girls, I think the favorite is basketball. The gym is full of these different activities each evening at recreation.

Progressive Parties

Divided into groups, I.A. students progressed around the campus to participate in faculty-directed games. In the girls' dorm the person who's "it" tried to find the leader. On another stop in the library, musical chairs proved interesting. Alice and Don tried to remove the strings connecting their wrists, and Becky saw how fast she could dress in a pair of overalls. Then Marty and Becky finished their evening with a game of good old-fashioned arm wrestling.



National Honor Society

The National Honor Society is a group of students with high scholastic achievements and good citizenship chosen by the faculty. The big event of the year is a trip to Andrews University for National Honor Society Days. For two days the A.U. National Honor Society acts as host in presenting the college program. Pictured are Senior Honor Society Members with Doctor Smoot, president of A.U.

Shari,

I guess what turned out to be a great friendship all started the night you told me that I wasn't so bad after all. I hate it that I gave such a rotten first impression & am thankful for those who somehow see through it. That cool evening when the horses [illegible] and everything got all [illegible] fed up [illegible] was well worth finding a new friend. You have, since then, shown your thoughtfulness & Christian love towards me. The times when I've been depressed, needed one of your fantastic backrubs (or a crack or two), or maybe some extra help & encouragement with the CCHO it's been you there to support me. Somehow you always know — or God helps you to notice. Though I may not show it I do really appreciate it.

We've had fun acting silly too — The night Broadview's choir was here, (man he was cute) late nights catching mice, staying up past our sain hours to work on Accounting, and now marching together in our Senior high school graduation.

May you always be happy & cheerful, happy with your honey, and a constant witness for Christ. Meet you by that Sea of Glass.

'79 Lots of Love, Colleen Behner

Sharon,

Thank you for being such a good friend to me this year. Remember the good times we had on our class trip. I'll never forget pushing you around on a wheelchair at the Space Center. I had a lot of fun giving you heart attacks that day. I'm glad you have recovered. Just think, graduation is right around the corner. I sure am going to miss you a lot.

Love ya lots,
Bonnie

DON'T FORGET

The Great Lakes Adventist Health Services, Inc., is a corporation of church owned health care institutions. We now serve the public at thirteen facilities located in four states, and plans are underway to expand to fourteen facilities in the very near future. Our dynamic new programs will be providing an even greater demand for positions in family practice, general surgery, dentistry, nuclear medicine, nursing, and health education.

As you continue your education and as you begin to shape plans for the future, keep in mind the Great Lakes Adventist Health Services, Inc., is ready and eager to help. Don't forget—we're already making plans for your future!

Sooner or Later,

IT'S YOUR CHOICE

The "pomp and circumstance" doesn't have to end now.

Just because you've already donned the flat-topped hat and grasped the rolled-up paper doesn't mean that it's done once and for all. In fact, there's no end to the number of times you can graduate, especially from a university like Andrews.

For starters, you can earn a certificate in just one year in any of 15 popular areas from the Center for Occupational Education. After that, you can go on for a two-year associate degree in accounting, technology, secretarial studies or any one of 26 fields.

There are plenty of four-year programs to choose from, too, with majors or concentrations in 29 areas, like business, mass communication and dietetics, and 51 choices of minors.

Maybe someday you'll even be interested in one of Andrews' 21 master's specialties or earning your doctorate.

So don't feel that those high school strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" have to signal an end. Graduation is just the beginning.

For more information about the programs of study at Andrews University, write: Director of Admissions, Andrews University, Berrien Springs, MI 49104.

HAVE WE GOT AN EDUCATION FOR YOU IN OHIO!

Not just a school and some teachers. We've got real learning going on and students who really love it and can put new skills to good use. At Kettering College of Medical Arts, we've got education programs to put you in a health career—dietetics, respiratory, radiology, and biomedical electronics, to name a few. The special value of an education at Kettering college is that your learning comes not only in the classroom, it also comes in the laboratory. Every program includes a great deal of hands-on time next door at Kettering hospital—as much as 30 per cent! Kettering College of Medical Arts has a unique affiliation with Kettering Memorial Hospital. No need to practice in a clinical setting months after learning a technique in the classroom; you can do it right away at Kettering. And that means you learn more, learn faster, and learn better. Juniors: most programs fill nearly a year ahead at Kettering, so you need to apply during the fall of your senior year in order to get in. Call the registrar office today to get information about a program that's right for you. Call collect: (513) 296-7228.

Dear Shari,

What a year! What can I say except we've been through an awful lot & I appreciate all you've done for me. By just being a friend! I'll never forget all our "fun" times working in the Cafe. If it weren't for you in there - I'm sure I'd been so bored! You're a great person Shari! How much we've all grown Spiritually & Mentally. Never leave God out of your life. I've been thru too many experiences without him to know that He's worth taking the time to know & have. Have a fun summer & please write me! Never forget our many nights awake.

Love,
Judi.

Shari,

You dont know how happy I am that I have ment you, you are so sweet and understanding, in some ways we are alike, we both dont like to show our feelings, or cry in front of people, we both are crazy and can be very Serious. You have helped me alot with Melvin, Sid, and Darryck, you will be a good psychologist, the two I underlined I love very much and probably always will. I dont know what I will do with out you here next year. Im really going to miss you alot! You had better come and visit Sue and I, all the time. And dont forget to write me!

Dont forget all the fun times we've had, eatting our rolls at the middle of night instead of breakfast saturday morning. All the times we went Shopping, And those guys in Kinnys Shoe Store! Remember that time I stuck bowls in my top and had scarf,+ sunglasses? I just love to make you and Sue laugh at me, cause of all the stuff I do. I will miss trying to wake you up every Saturday morning, your a hard person to get up!! Remember every little thing about this year, the good and bad. I'm sorry for the times I have hurt you or made you mad, I hope it's forgiveable. I hope you will have a happy life ahead of you, and may God always bless you, in every thing you do. I will always remember you, how could I forget! I hope you will Always remember me. Always remember I am your friend (a very close friend) and if you every need some one to talk to or just to be there let me know and I'll try to help. Have a fun summer, I might come and visit you sometime.

I love you just like a sister, And care about you alot! I'll miss you! Love ya Sis, '81

Take Care!

Becky

Shari,
You are a real sweet person. Im glad you came back to I.A this year, you have helped the Senior Class a lot. Thanx a lot. we all needed your help. It was fun working with you in Journalism.
Take Care. R.M.A
God Bless You in all You do. Love

Dear Shari
I'am glad we could become friends this year. Remember all the good Times in accounting. Thanks for helping me. Good luck in all you do.
Love ya "79"
Shar

Sorry for the hours & efforts - I'm thankful for the privilege.
God is so good to us. I'm glad he's real & important to you - my prayer is that your faith & trust grows & we'll be together through out eternity. These and your talks will be nothing!! All my love
Mrs
